

The CCP Party's Over:

*Countering China's Corrupt,
Deceptive Influence
Around the World*

Mission Statement

Under the totalitarian leadership of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), China has become the United States' strategic adversary and most consequential foreign policy challenge of the century. Complacency towards China has allowed the CCP's quest for dominance and deceptive behavior to go largely unchecked on the world stage for far too long.

This campaign will help educate the American public and others about the CCP's threat to our values and interests across various domains including: security, academia, commerce, technology, and governance.

This is not just a resource, but a call to action: the United States must form an enduring and comprehensive strategy with our allies to counter China's coercive influence, impose consequences for their malign actions, and better compete with them globally.
